Drawing on more than 50 years’ experience developing steel blades, Komelon introduces a new standard in cutter knife technology. Built for professional users, Komelon knives are made in Korea utilising the finest quality steel combined with Komelon’s precision manufacturing to deliver superior strength and wear resistance. Komelon blades stay sharper and last longer so you can achieve better results in less time. 0.5MM tolerance between the guide and blade - safe cutting without shaking

Superior blade and guide hardness (HV170) compared to other leading competitors - strong and more accurate for longer

Firm and smooth operation - for safety and longevity

Stainless Steel Blade Guides - for rust resistance

Specially formulated SK2Cr4 blade material - making the blade both stronger and more persistent
