The Brumby SS Polishing Compound is ideal in polishing applications on aluminium and aluminium alloys where a high quality finish is desired. For the best results, use the polishing compound with a Josco Loose Leaf Calico Buff. Josco also has three other types of polishing compounds available in its range, in both standard and large sizes. They are all intended for use on surfaces without major blemishes, resulting in little metal removal and will achieve a bright result. Any small scratches that are produced by cutters can subsequently be removed with the use of a finishing compound.
