10.5 Type V Nails to suit V Nailers to suit Picture Framing Underpin Nail Guns. V-Nails are very commonly used in the picture framing industry to join (and in conjunction with wood glue) permanently hold the mitred corners of a picture frame together. They have one edge that is sharp and one edge that is dull.

The unique V-shaped design of these nails provides exceptional holding power and stability, making them perfect for framing, joining corners, and creating strong mitre joints. Our extensive range includes various sizes of V-nails, ranging from 7mm to 15mm, ensuring you have the right nail for a wide range of projects and frame thicknesses.
