A tool diameter of 150 mm and a wide range of accessories make the Festool RG 150 renovation grinder perfect for applications over large surface areas. Concrete, coatings and residual abrasive are easy to remove and the ergonomic double D handle is effective in every working position and suppresses vibrations to allow safe guidance on all surfaces. A height adjustable guide table enables you to optimise the machine performance and prevents the need for subsequent surface repair. The integrated extraction port guarantees extremely efficient extraction when paired with a Festool extractor.
