The DE0892G is a laser detector designed to be used with Dewalt green beam self levelling line lasers. On occasions or locations when laser levels are harder to see the DW0892 laser detector allows the user to clearly see a projected laser line from either of the above laser levels. This ensures a faster and more accurate reading. The DE0892 has a working range of 50m and can be used in hand as well as remotely when using a tripod, or attached to a solid surface or rail.
