The DeWalt 18V XR Brushless Pole Saw, DCMP567, is a welcome addition to their specialised gardening range and is the perfect solution for anyone trimming branches or hedges at height. Its chainsaw head has an auto-oiling feature to keep the cutting performance smooth and easy while the whole machine stays well balanced, especially with the battery attached. For safety, the trigger incorporates a double switch that prevents you accidentally starting the machine and the 200mm chainsaw bar has been specially designed to minimise kick-back. Features:

200mm Bar with low kickback & auto-oiling chain for enhanced safety

Brushed motor delivering up to 55 100 x 100cm cuts per charge

Automatic oiling for smooth cutting performance

2m pole length, extendable to 2m offering a total reach of 4.5m for quick and easy reach to higher work areas

Metal bucking strips and tree hook for durable cutting grip and easy removal of pruned branches

Dual switch increases jobsite safety by requiring both switches to be activated

Support handle gives optimum comfort and control for extra stability

Lightweight aluminum oval tube pole for maneuverability and ease of use
