An axe is a versatile tool, essential for any trip to the wilderness of around the camp. This lightweight axe from Schrader performs any task around the camp that is too unwieldy for a traditional axe as it can be easily wielded with one hand. The axe head is made of black oxide coated 3Cr13 stainless steel, and the coating protects the blade from normal wear and tear. The handles are made of lightweight GFN and hold up well during use. The hatchet comes with a button nylon sheath. Specifications:
